

Summer Camps

Recreation Services offers a wide variety of summer camps that are fun, interesting, creative, active, and adventurous. All Recreation summer camps provide a nurturing and safe environment for youth that uses the research-proven 40 Developmental Assets approach to reinforce an individual's internal strengths and provide external support to help them be successful in life. For more information, visit www.search-institute.org.

Some camps are part of a series with a theme; they are listed below under the Community Center offering them (pages 72-82). All other camps are listed at the end, organized by the types of activities in the camp (pages 83-87). Most camps run Monday through Friday and are full day or part day.

Camps specifically designed for youth with disabilities are listed in the Adaptive section (page 64), but all camps are open to all children, regardless of ability. For inclusion services, please call Carly Schmidt at 541-682-8837.

Register for all camps at www.eugene-or.gov/reecenroll or through any City of Eugene community center or pool. For more information on registration and policies, see pages 92-94. For facility locations and contact information, see pages 6-7.

Some camps must be paid in full when you register. For all others, reserve a space with a $25 deposit, then full payment is due three weeks prior to start date. Withdrawals after June 1 forfeit the deposit.

A Summer Camp Health Form must be completed, and is available at www.eugene-or.gov/reccamps, or at the community centers. Scholarships and sibling discounts may be available — please ask.

Camps at Amazon Center

Imagine, play and create! If you like to act, draw, paint, build and invent, this is the place to be. Talented arts instructors, educators and recreation leaders bring their special skills and training to offer a fun, safe and creative summer at camp. The camps mix visual, 3D and performance arts with games, swimming and play to keep campers fresh and creative.

Camps by Activities

The following camps are offered by Aquatics, Outdoor, and Youth & Family Programs at various sites. They are generally weekly camps that offer a focus on a particular activity and provide opportunities for creativity, adventure and learning new skills. They are grouped by activity.

Camp lengths range from part or half day to whole day, and some offer overnight activities (these require pretrip meetings). Some camps are for children as young as 3 years of age, and others are geared toward 'tweens and teens up to 18 years.

AQUATICS CAMPS
